Why I became a Governor	As I moved into a senior leadership role at Endon Hall, it was necessary for me to have a more thorough understanding of how the school is led and what is involved 'behind the scenes'. I was given an opportunity to become an Associate Governor, and I jumped at the chance to play a part in the strategic leadership of the school!
The day job!	I have been teaching for 6 years and am now the Deputy Headteacher at Endon Hall Primary School, having previously been the Assistant Headteacher. In my leadership role I work alongside Miss Lewis to oversee all aspects of leadership and management across the school. I work closely with the staff to improve teaching and learning, so that our children are provided with the best possible education and are happy, whilst making progress academically and socially.
What do I contribute?	My role is to support Miss Lewis in driving the school forward. We share the same vision for where we want our school to be, and for the experiences we want to give to our children. My experience enables me to provide further information and explanations to governors about teaching and learning.
Do I have children at the school?	No
